Elena Walch, Tramin (South Tyrol)

Chardonnay Cardellino DOC

Vintage	2025
Winemaker	Elena Walch
Region	South Tyrol
Alcohol	13.5% vol.
Grapes	100% Chardonnay

Winemaking

After gentle pressing and static clarification, the fermentation takes place at a controlled temperature of 20 °C and long yeast contact after fermentation. 15 percent of the Chardonnay is fermented in French oak barriques and matures for 5 months. The assembling takes place in spring.

Our tasting note

The Chardonnay Cardellino has an intensive straw-yellow colour. Ripe exotic fruits, some lime-tree blossoms and honey give the wine its complex nose. The Chardonnay is full-bodied and structured, juicy and harmonious with a subtle softness. With a long and elegant finish.

Elena Walch

Elena Walch is a leading vineyard in South Tyrol under family proprietorship. Encouraging quality and innovation, Elena Walch stood at the head of the quality revolution in South Tyrol and has gained local and international esteem for her efforts. The great assets of Elena Walch are the two vineyards Vigna Castel Ringberg above Kalterer See, and Vigna Kastelaz above Tramin. All wines bear the clear signature of their producer and delight with their purity of taste, elegance and finesse. Elena Walch, formerly a successful architect, al so understands her current profession brilliantly. Responsibility for the family company has now been placed in the hands of daughters Julia and Karoline Walch, as the fifth generation of the family.
