Winemaking

As soon as the Chardonnay is at the peak of its ripeness, the different classic vine types are harvested. The particular thing about the vinification is the joint pressing of the grapes and fermenting them in French barriques. Following fermentation, they are then stirred weekly for 3 months (battonage). Following 10 months of maturing in barriques, the wine is stored for at least 6 months in bottles.

Our tasting note

A brilliant and intensive yellow characterises the white cuvée wine Beyond the Clouds. This wine has a nose of exotic fruits, as well as a soft richness in combination with fantastic freshness. A fantastically delicious cuvée with good ripening potential. Perfect barrique maturing, without dominating the subtle fruit aromas.

Elena Walch

Elena Walch is a leading vineyard in South Tyrol under family proprietorship. Encouraging quality and innovation, Elena Walch stood at the head of the quality revolution in South Tyrol and has gained local and international esteem for her efforts. The great assets of Elena Walch are the two vineyards Vigna Castel Ringberg above Kalterer See, and Vigna Kastelaz above Tramin. All wines bear the clear signature of their producer and delight with their purity of taste, elegance and finesse. Elena Walch, formerly a successful architect, al so understands her current profession brilliantly. Responsibility for the family company has now been placed in the hands of daughters Julia and Karoline Walch, as the fifth generation of the family.
