Winemaking

Tessons is an excellent vineyard. The clay and limestone substrate in the soil, which appears slightly red due to iron-rich ooliths, gives the wines remarkable strength. It is exclusively vinified and aged in 228-liter barrels, of which about 20% are new. After 17 months of aging, no fining or filtration takes place.

Our tasting note

Intense gold-yellow color, with aromas of white flowers, ripe pineapple, citrus fruits, and fresh butter on the nose. A wonderful Meursault with depth and a slightly nutty flavor, comparable to many 1er Crus. Soft and creamy, full-bodied on the finish.

Buisson-Charles

The Buisson-Charles estate covers a modest 6.3 hectares and has been cultivating parcels in the Meursault area for several generations. Its holdings also include crus from Volnay and Pommard, while its négociant activities encompass red wines from Corton and Chambertin, as well as white wines from Chassagne-Montrachet, Puligny-Montrachet, Chablis Premier Cru, Pouilly-Fuissé Premier Cru, and Corton-Charlemagne. The estate's old vines, ranging from 30 to 90 years of age, naturally produce low yields, resulting in highly concentrated wines with excellent aging potential after vinification and maturation. Catherine Buisson and her husband Patrick Essa have been managing the estate since 2001, and they are fortunate to have their son, Louis, return to the winery after completing his studies as an oenological engineer. There's no doubt that Louis will follow in his parents' footsteps in the years to come. The 2019 vintage marked a significant milestone as it was the first one he fully vinified on his own.
