Winemaking

Meticulous care of the vines in the vineyard with a strong reduction in yield. The high-quality grapes are harvested by hand and gently pressed. Subsequently, separate fermentation of the individual types of vines under controlled temperatures and maturing in steel tanks.

Our tasting note

The Orto di Venezia is characterised by straw-yellow colour and has a citrus-fruit aroma, with nut and a multi-faceted mineral notes. On the pallet, it has terroir, richness and a beautiful freshness and a long, almost salty, dry finish.

The French-born Michel Thoulouze, founder of the French television channel Canal+, produces the only wine in Venice on the island of Sant'Erasmo, in the lagoon just outside the city. No one less than Claude Bourguignon from the cult wine cellar «Domaine de la Romanée Conti» has helped him with the vinification. The small production volume ranges from no more than 14,000 to 16,000 bottles. Michel Thoulouze today sells his exclusive wine in the best triple-star restaurants across the globe.
